(a) The picture shows a man who is in the military. He is wearing what looks to be a military jacket and he looks ready to fight the next battle.

(b) The picture is of Hitler's father (1837-1903) Alois. Alois was the illegitimate son of a maid servant, Maria Anna Kommer, who later married a journeyman, Georg Riedel. (Rauer 57) Although Hitler's mother (Käthe) was not in the military but in customs, being in customs was a semi-military profession. This being said, Alois probably was very nationalist, patriotic, and loyal to his country. By 1860, after nine years service, he reached the rank of Quartermaster Sergeant. (a non-commissioned officer) and in 1875 he was an inspector of customs.
